

Highlights

- OPENER assembles frozen pretrained components into an open-world NER pipeline
- Light contrastive fine-tuning with hard-negative mining sharpens the embedder
- Zero-shot and supervised typing heads share one frozen embedding space
- A 13-dataset benchmark jointly measures accuracy, latency and energy use
- Best zero-shot accuracy end-to-end with several times less energy than rivals